

READ TO ACHIEVE

May 2013

Volume I, Issue 10

Attendance data is due by the end of May, or before you leave for summer break, whichever comes first. This report will be an extension of the excel sheet you sent in December. Attached to this email you will find the updated directions. If you have any other questions about how to complete the attendance report, you can email me or view the first part of the third webinar found on the RTA resource page of the KDE website. Please remember to label your file as follows:

Schoolname_districtname_teachername

If you are entering a child twice because they exited RTA intervention earlier in the year and then reentered, please send a separate email alerting me so the data team will be aware of this.

Ten tips for becoming a connected educator:

1. Embrace making mistakes
2. There's no right way-there's only your way
3. Just jump in
4. Be open to learning unexpected things
5. Follow like-minded people in education
6. Join the Edcamp movement
7. Join a live virtual event
8. Block out time to get connected
9. Be yourself and help others
10. Start blogging

To read the complete article go to

<http://www.edutopia.org/blog/10-tips-become-connected-educator-elana-leoni>

Attached to this email is the updated assurance statement that must be mailed with original signatures by August 1 to receive the RTA grant next year. If you want to get these signatures before school is out and mail it early, that will be fine. That way you know it is not forgotten over the summer.

The Program Evaluation Report is due May 15. Attached is a working copy so when you complete the survey online, you will know what to expect although there could be very minor changes. Expect to get the link on Wednesday, May 8, so you have a week to enter the information.

Important Dates

in June

Monday - Swim
Tuesday - Golf
Wednesday -Nap
Thursday -Mow
Friday -Read
Saturday -Jog
Sunday -Grill out

If you are aware that your school will be closing, consolidating, or changing names next year please let me know. Also if you know the RTA teacher or principal of the school will change next year, please let me know that as well.

Have a restful summer.